Message

The fake note producers are using sophisticated technology and it has become difficult even for conscious people to identify a forged note. According to a media report, the currency forgers these days can turn an original 100 taka note into 500 taka one by erasing the former's printed line. It becomes sometimes impossible for general people who have eye-sight to track the genuine notes. The scenario is worst for the blind in this perspective.

I welcome IICT's initiative, "1st Global Awareness program on Banknote for the blind". This type of exclusive seminar is very rare in Bangladesh. We are also proud of being able to be associated with IICT's initiative of making blind people aware about fake notes. I do believe this program will bring more happiness to blind people for understanding our local currency.

Finally I wish the program a grand success.

Dr. Toufic Ahmad Choudhury

Director General
