It is very welcoming that International Institute of Currency Technology (IICT) is going to organize "1st Global Awareness Program on Banknote for the Blind". This session will sensitize the visually impaired people on the currency features of Bangladesh and will be helpful to them for bank note identification and fake note detection. Training, orientation and awareness on banknotes for the visually impaired people will make them self-dependent on money transaction. It may be mentioned here that Bangladesh Bank, as the regulator of commercial banks has taken number of initiatives to make the monetary transaction as easy as possible for the visually impaired. All commercial banks have been advised through an official circular to make money transaction and account opening as easy as possible for them.

I hope the IICT event a great success.
